

Login into your TUM-Online account and click in the tab „Services“ on „Software“. In the List of software products you will find the entry „Further products“. To register for ChemDraw (and Origin) you need in the next steps a valid email address (other than your normal tum-adress). Click on „generate“ to obtain this adress.

To obtain the following software products, you need to create a temporarily e-mail address. This alias validates your TUM membership against third parties during registration. The registration data will be sent to your TUM-Mailbox by using the alias. Please do not use your regular @tum.de e-mail address to register at third party websites unless you are explicit told so.

Info	Provider / Product	E-Mail address (alias for your TUM-address)	Action
▶	ChemDraw	-	<input type="button" value="generate"/>
▶	Origin	-	<input type="button" value="generate"/>

Your alias gets deactivated once you do not fulfill the requirements to obtain free software anymore (end of your studies/employment). You can deactivate your alias anytime, if you do not need it anymore. If you like to reactivate your alias later on, you will always get the same address.

This cryptic mail-adress is an alias which delivers the mails sent to it to your real mail-adress registered in TUM-Online.
If you are no longer member of the authorized group of institutions, this alias will no longer forward email sent to it.

Introduction

Use this document to quickly register and activate your ChemDraw/ChemOffice license.

Find your organization's Institution license

To find your organization's institution license:

Install and Activate ChemDraw/ChemOffice

For Windows, there are now 3 installers available:

- For Signals activation, the current user installers: ChemDraw and ChemDraw Applications
- For Flexera activation, the joint all users/current user installer: ChemDraw Suite

The following assumes Flexera activation is required, so will be concerned only with ChemDraw Suite. Also, this may be the only installer supplied.

- Once you have completed the download of the software to your computer, find the Windows (.exe) or Mac (.dmg) file to run the installer. For Mac (.dmg) simply select the installation file and run it via double click. For Windows, select the installation file and for:
  - a current user installation, run it via double click
  - for an all users installation, use right-click to “Run as Administrator”.

Warning: Do not begin installation before the download is 100% complete.

Note: during installation, if a previous version of ChemDraw/ChemOffice (v17 and up) is detected, the installer may not prompt you for activation. If it does not ask for activation, then you are ready to run ChemDraw.
- If it does ask for activation, use the Activation Code you recorded from the “List Entitlements” page above (Download Your Software).
- In the ChemDraw application:
  - in the Licensing window, select “Activation code” and click “Continue”:

Licensing

This product can be licensed in different ways. Choose an option:

Signals account
Use this option if you have a Signals account that includes a license for Signals ChemDraw.

Activation code
Use this option if you have been given an activation code. The activation code will look similar to ABCD-EFGH-IJKL-MNOP.
